BUCKS COUNTY BOY SCOUTS IN REUNION

Typical Scout Trail Greeted Boys At Arcade Hall, Newtown

MANY SPEAKERS

One of the outstanding features of the program of the Bucks County Council of the Boy Scouts of America was the camp reunion of all the men and boys who were at Camp Buccoo this past summer. The reunion was held here Saturday evening, assembling in front of the Brick Hotel, Newtown, the parade of over two hundred and thirty men and boys covered a march of nearly a mile through the city before entering Arcade Hall.

The parade was led by Dr. A. J. Strathie representing the Newtown Community Committee, and was followed by Troop No. 9 (Newtown No. 1) Scoutmaster John Montgomery, and Troop No. 20 (Newtown No. 2) Scoutmaster Roland Porter with the troop committees of both troops. Division No. 2 contained the Scouts and the Bugle and Drum Corps of Troops No. 2 and No. 3 (Bristol No. 1, and No. 2) Scoutmaster Norman Heatherington. The stirring music from this group instilled life and "pep" into everyone including the bystanders along the parade route. Division No. 3 led by Camp Chairman Henry Palmer, President Thomas B. Stockham, and Scout Executive Wm. F. Livermore, Jr. The County Council Executive Board followed with nearly every man present. Vice-President Carl Wenzel, Bristol; Raymond Acuff, Middletown; William Burgess, Jr., Morrisville; Wallace Moffit, Newtown; Frederick H. Clymer, and Vice-President Thomas Ross, Doylestown (Mr. Ross as a troop committee man of Troop 1, Doylestown, marched with the troop); William O. Hunsicker, and Vice-President Mark Thatcher, Perkasie. The Camp Committee and the 1927 Buccoo staff completed the marchers in this division.

Division No. 4 included the following troops with their troop committees: Troop No. 6 (Doylestown No. 1) Scoutmaster E. J. Gallagher; Troop No. 7 (Bristol No. 5), Scoutmaster Harrison Leake; Troop No. 11 (Perkasie No. 1), Scoutmaster Claude Gilbert; Division No. 5—Troop No. 14 (Trevose No. 1) with their Bugle and Drum Corps, Scoutmaster Thomas Woolam; Division No. 6 included all car drivers, and visiting Scoutmasters and troop committees of which Troop No. 5 (Churchville No. 1) Scoutmaster M. P. Luther was well represented. Division No. 7 included the following troops and their troop committees: Troop No. 18 (Doylestown No. 2) Scoutmaster Stanley Dilcer; Cub Pack No. 18 (Doylestown Pack No. 2); Troop No. 19 (Langhorne No. 1) Scoutmaster Joseph W. Lindelfelser; Cub Pack No. 19 (Langhorne Pack No. 1); and Troop No. 21 (South Langhorne No. 1) Scoutmaster Charles Briggie.

A typical scout trail greeted the campers as they were entering Arcade Hall. It was a clever reproduction, the ingenuity of Dr. Strathie, he was aided by the scouts of both of the Newtown Troops in completing the entrance and winding trail. The program started with songs led by Song Leader Albert Bisbee, Bristol, after which A. J. Strathie expressed the pleasure of Newtown having had the opportunity of welcoming the "Scouters," and especially at their first camp Reunion. Cheers for Newtown, Dr. Strathie and others were led by Cheer Leader Walter Rutherford, Doylestown.

Stunts were presented by the following troops: Langhorne No. 1, "Fatigued Period Assignments at Camp" and "A Visit to the County Scout Headquarters at Doylestown." Langhorne Wolf Cubs, "William Tell," Doylestown No. 2, "Jumping Hynes," Perkasie No. 1, "Inspection." A number of the old camp songs were led by Song Leader Bisbee which "set the stage" for another round of stunts: Bristol No. 5, "The Camp Mess Line With Our Efficient Camp Quartermaster;" Doylestown No. 1, "Pocahontas;" and "Jake Warner, the Traffic Cop;" Bristol No. 1 and No. 2, "A Missing?" Boxing Bout" and "A Musical Trio (?)." The Bristol Scout Bugle and Drum Corps gave two selections which had plenty of blood quickening melody. Newtown No. 2 concluded the "stunts" with a take off of "St. and Mary at the Railroad Crossing."

At the request of Mr. Livermore, the Executive Board, Troop Committees and Scoutmasters stood which brought forth many rounds of applause from the appreciative scouts. In presenting Henry Palmer, chairman of the camp committee, Executive Livermore told of the many hours of service which involved considerable expense and time that Mr. Palmer and his associates of the camp committee had devoted to both finding

MRS. SARAH BENNETT DIES AT AGE OF 74 YEARS

Highly Esteemed Resident Of Hulmeville Was Ill For Long Time

FUNERAL TOMORROW

HULMEVILLE, Nov. 28.—A highly esteemed resident of Hulmeville, Mrs. Sarah Bennett, died on Saturday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Myers, Main street, this borough.

Mrs. Bennett, who had resided in this section for practically all her life, was 74 years of age. She was one of the oldest members of the Neshaminy M. E. Sunday School, in point of service, having years ago attended classes at "Old Neshaminy." She was for a number of years teacher of the Women's Bible Class at the Methodist Sunday School here, and was also a member of the church.

About two years ago she suffered a paralytic stroke, which had confined her to her room for some months. During the past summer, however, she was able to sit upon the porch of her daughter's home and converse with friends. About one week ago she was again stricken, and steadily became worse, death occurring on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Bennett was the widow of John Bennett, and daughter of the late George Dewees. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Herbert Myers; one granddaughter, Mrs. Chester Charles, of Washington, D. C.; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Stackhouse, of Bristol, and Mrs. Thomas Burgess, of Philadelphia; and one brother, Silas Dewees, of Bristol.

The funeral service, to which relatives and friends are invited, will be held tomorrow from the residence of Mr. Myers, at 2 p. m., with the Rev. Walter H. Canon, pastor of the Neshaminy M. E. Church, officiating. Burial will be made in Beechwood Cemetery.

Story of New Ford Car To Be Told Here Friday

The full story of the new Ford automobile, described by Henry Ford as being "superior in design and performance to any now available in the low price, light car field," will be told first in Bristol next Friday, December 2, according to announcement today by Thos. A. Collier, local Ford dealer.

A public reception is to be held here simultaneously with similar gatherings at every Ford dealer in the United States, thus constituting a part of the greatest automobile show in the history of the industry.

While no detailed descriptions have yet been given out by the local dealer, the Ford Motor Company, from its headquarters in Detroit, has announced that the new Ford car will be as far in advance of present public demand for speed, flexibility, control in traffic and economy of operation as the famous Model T was in advance of public demand when it was introduced in 1908.

Dealers have not yet been advised as to the prices at which the new Ford line will sell, but definite assurance has come from Detroit that the price will be entirely in accord with the policy of the Ford Motor Company to provide the best possible automobile at the lowest possible price.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the public reception here. City officials and prominent business men of Bristol and vicinity have been invited and preparations have been made to give every caller at the show a thorough understanding of this car which is expected to make a new chapter in automobile history.

BRISTOL A. A. ENDS SEASON WITH VICTORY

Local Eleven Defeats Lansdale Team by Score of 37 to 0

LAST OF LEAGUE GAMES

Bristol A. A. ended its Bucks-Montgomery Football League season yesterday by trouncing the Lansdale team by the score of 37-0 before a fair-sized crowd.

The visitors held the home team in the first period, preventing any score but "Al" Bauer called his heavy artillery into the game and then the fireworks commenced. Hutton crossing the goal line for the initial score.

In the third period Coyle and Fine each scored for touchdowns, and in the last period Sackville, Fine and Hutton crossed the final chalk mark for six points each, with Gene Dugan kicking the only point after touchdowns.

The outstanding features of the game were the open field running of Rogers, McVaine and Hutton, the line crashing of Sackville, Fine, Cook, Dugan, David and Barton.

Bristol's line was invincible, Lansdale never being able to penetrate it. The only gaining the visitors made was through the air, and this proved disastrous, Hutton intercepting a pass and racing 50 yards for a touchdown in the final period.

TO LAY TRACKS ON RIVERFRONT SHORE AT MORRISVILLE

Borough Mayor Sees Betterment of River as Big Asset

EXPECT BIG BOOM

Believe There Will Be An Influx of Industries Thereby

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 28.—Steps toward a great industrial development of Morrisville were taken recently when a conference was held by officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Mayor and members of Common Council. The proposition is to prepare for the industries which, it is believed, will surely come to Morrisville with the deepening of the Delaware River and the establishment of a bulkhead line along the Morrisville shore.

The conference between borough officials and officials of the railroad company was held to take up the question of laying a railroad track on South Delmor avenue from the old line to join the new line which is to be built below Morrisville.

The matter brought forth a general discussion and members of Common Council recommended that the railroad company make South Delmor avenue 30 feet wider than it is at present, that the railroad track be placed on the far easterly side with a concrete coping between the track and the street proper and that the street be paved with some permanent pavement. This, it was agreed, would place the railroad track out of the way of vehicular traffic and would give the residents of that thoroughfare a good street which would eliminate the present dust and dirt nuisance.

Council has not yet passed the ordinance and the present conferences are held to discuss the matter. Another question brought up at this week's conference was to have the railroad company extend South Delmor avenue south to the Ferry Road. The railroad company was asked to fill in the lowlands along this place and make a street there.

With the dredging of the Delaware River, it was reported, the material taken from the river is to be dumped along the Morrisville side to make the bulkhead and when the lowlands are filled in there will be available for factory sites the entire river front from the present railroad bridge to the Ferry Road in Morrisville borough and for a great distance outside the borough.

Mayor Thomas B. Stockham, the man who for years has been working on this proposition, believes he is about to have his dreams realized, that of having the lower end of Morrisville a great industrial centre. The work the Pennsylvania Railroad Company proposes to do is just the beginning of this development, the Mayor says. With these sites situated so as to have access to water and rail transportation there will be nothing to stop one of the greatest developments that has come to any town hereabouts.

Methodist Ladies To Arrange X'mas Bazaar

The contract includes all of the window shades, tables, chairs, desks, pool table, card table and other articles, too numerous to mention.

The architect and Mr. Dries visited the large furniture houses and factories devoted to building special office equipment. In the list of furniture to be supplied are included a number of special pieces such as chairs especially designed for the President of Council, the secretary and other borough officials. There will be specially designed individual desks for each of the 18 members of Borough Council. Most of the furniture will be of walnut. The card tables will be light oak.

HOLD-UP QUARTET DINES; THEN ROBS 7 IN RESTAURANT

Four Youths Take $300 From Proprietor Near Sellersville

ESCAPE IN MOTOR CAR

Daring Robbery Occurs On Bethlehem Pike Near Sellersville

SELLERSVILLE, Nov. 28.—After dining leisurely and paying their bill, four well-dressed youths held up the proprietor and six patrons of the Hillcrest Restaurant, on the Bethlehem Pike, two miles south of here, at 3 a. m. today.

They escaped with more than $300, after cutting the telephone wires and disabling the automobiles of their victims.

One woman, in the company of her divorced husband, was among those robbed of jewelry.

Harry Davis, proprietor of the place, was standing behind the cash register when the youths, after paying for their food, donned their coats and hats and ambled toward the door.

They suddenly whipped out revolvers at the direction of one of their number, dressed in a blue top coat and derby hat, who appeared to be the leader.

His companions, all of the "sheik" type, were attired in light suits and caps and wore gray top coats.

"Line up against the wall," the leader indicated to the patrons who were amazed by the sudden transformation of their fellow-diners.

Davis was covered by two of the robbers before he could make use of a .45 calibre revolver and .22 calibre rifle which they took from behind the counter, along with $112 from the till.

The other holdup victims who followed instructions and lined up along the opposite wall are Robert Stockert, Lansdale, from whom $70 was taken; Lewis Rutherford, Lansdale, who lost $2, and Mildred Conway, Clayton, N. J., his former wife, who gave up jewelry; Mike Monaco, Ambler, a watch and chain; Paul Augustine, Ambler, and his brother, Joseph, who surrendered more than $20 between them, and George Pasceri, of Ambler, from whom was taken a $50 watch.

In the midst of their operations one of the youths went outside where several automobiles were parked. He disconnected the battery wires on each car except on the touring car in which he had come with his companions.

Warning their victims not to pursue them at risk of being shot, they hopped into their car and fled.

Davis, attempting to telephone, found they had severed the telephone wires.

It was not until twenty minutes later when a passing motor party was hailed and given the alarm that police could be notified. The strangers, informed of the robbery, rode to Hatfield where they reported it to Constable John Graham, who communicated with police of nearby communities.

LABOR ADOPTS REASON

Substitution of facts for force in wage negotiations has been recommended by American labor leaders. The proposal, if carried into effect, may well mark the beginning of an entirely new era in the relations between labor and capital. It would mean subordination, but not abandonment, of the strike weapon which workers have been so prone to use in the past, and that would be a welcome relief to a public which would have revolted against industrial terrorism, thinly disguised as the right of the laborer to a living wage.

This proposal fits in well with the determination of the American Federation of Labor to shun any alliance with the more radical elements of labor. The strike has been misused by the communists. They have used it, not to improve working conditions and wages, but to destroy property, gain converts and cultivate class hatred. Any labor dispute involving a strike is usually a period when reason loses much of its force. Sabotage and criminal destruction are easily practiced in such trying times.

The new labor policy anticipates a condition under which reason would predominate at all times. Statistics, needs and possibilities, instead of threats, demands and strikes, would fix wages and working hours.

Employers have long made use of such weapons. They have demonstrated on many occasions the economic impossibility of granting the demands of workers. Doubtless, there have been times, and will be times, when labor could demonstrate the economic possibility of granting its demands. The proposal should work for the good not only of capital and labor but of the public, and when industrial relations can be put upon such a basis the nation will be the beneficiary.

THE VALUE OF RESEARCH

Seventeen million telephones, 45,000,000 miles of wire, 6,000 telephone offices, 70,000,000 wire-conversations a day, local calls completed in less than half a minute—impressive as these telephone statistics are, they scarcely explain why telephone service in this country is without a parallel.

One lifts a receiver from its hook. Something happens immediately. Every telephone on the continent can be connected with that in your office or house in ways and for technical reasons still mysterious to most people.

That black instrument through which one can converse with the antipodes is the offspring of ninety types of transmitter and more than sixty types of receiver, historic curiosities. If that instrument could tell its story, it would be a story of research applied in creating thousands of parts concealed in switchboards and buried in conduits.

Research in laboratories of telephone companies, manufacturers of electrical supplies and inventors has discovered ways to save telephone companies $1,000,000 a year by prolonging the life of "repeaters," to save $750,000 a year in lightning protectors, to save $8,000,000 a year by improving a switchboard part, to save $50,000 a year by using a new type of wire. Research made possible transcontinental telephone conversation that can be understood and telephone service that is reliable and rapid.

Distance lends enchantment to a debt.

Echoes of the Past

Items of Interest as gleaned from old files of Bucks County Newspapers

In the issue of the Newtown Enterprise of November 19, 1892, the following items of interest were found: Wilmer A. Twining presided over the meeting of the Wrightstown Farmers' Club held at the home of Edmund S. Atkinson, Penn's Park. Following the business meeting J. A. Twining was called upon to give the best method of caring for and feeding stock in winter. Mr. Twining dwelt upon the importance of sheltering stock from the chilly winds of winter and damp, rainy weather, by keeping them most of the time in stables; then feed carefully with corn meal, bran and glucose refuse. The last named was cheaper than corn. Mr. Twining had had but little experience using it, highly. David Balderston said he Those who had used it spoke of it very as raising sugar beets with a view of feeding instead of so much hay. W. A. Twining, an interested silo man, gave illustrations where ensilage was the proper alternate for feed. For himself he could not say, except that he was prepared to give a trial, as he had a silo partly filled, which he thought curing properly.

The following pupils attended the Fairfield school, Upper Makefield, every day during the month of October, 1892: Lulu M. Trego, Mary Carter, Sadie Carter, Mattie Pessmire, Robert Whitlock, Claude Reading, James and Charles Whitlock, Marcus Doan, Charles Harvey and David Rowe.

Between 80 and 90 members and friends of the Wrightstown W. C. T. U. assembled at the home of Edward T. Slack, Buckingham, to celebrate the 7th anniversary of that union. The ladies prepared a bountiful supper. After supper the company was called to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. B. Krewson. Clara J. Merrick read the address of welcome and spoke hopefully of the work being done by that union. The response was given by Annie C. Scarborough. Mary A. Merrick, the union's delegate to the State convention, held at New Castle, gave a report. A tableau illustrating the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," was rendered. Readings were given by Martha S. Woodman.

It required over 4 tons of paper to print the specimen and official ballots for Bucks county during the fall of 1892, there being 65,000 of each kind issued in compliance with the law. The expenses of this election, exclusive of the booths and ballot boxes, was $7,000. It cost $3,760 for the election officers' pay.

Through the same issue of the Enterprise it was learned that: During the fall of 1892 many improvements were made along the Philadelphia, Newtown and New York Railroad in anticipation of the great increase of travel consequent upon the opening of the Reading Terminal and the connection of the Newtown road's tracks with those of the Reading, near Tabor station. New stations were expected at Newtown, Huntingdon Valley, Fox Chase, Churchville and Southampton, and at the County Line, Woodside, Paper Mills, Valley Falls and Wyoming avenue.

Howard, son of Mrs. Mary Twining, Newtown township, had two of his fingers blown off while attempting to shoot a skunk he had trapped.

Alfred Fackenthal, a leading member of the Bucks county bar, died from apoplexy, at his home in Doylestown. He was a native of Durham township and studied law with the late ex-Judge Watson.

During a heavy storm the end wall of the large stone barn on the farm of James Hibbs, occupied by Edward McGrath, near Langhorne, fell down, killing one cow and burying others among the debris.

It was also learned through said issue of that publication that: John L. Beans, Doylestown, 35 years ago, was conducting singing classes at Brownsburg, Mechanicsville and Rich-boro.

Thieves broke into the New Britain station for the third time in the

When a Man Loves
By ALLIE LOWE MILES
Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
John Barrymore in "WHEN A MAN LOVES" is a Warner Bros. Picture
tization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Fabien, good and handsome youth of France, trains for the priesthood; but meets and loves Manon Lescout, beautiful orphan, whose rascally brother, realizing her worldly value, barters her for gold to Raviot, rich connoisseur of women. Fabien saves her and carries her off to Paris where they wander into a boarding house and, in a great and sacred love, live happily together, though poor. While Fabien is out Manon's brother comes and bullies her into going with him. He changes her farewell note, so that it is cruel and final. Fabien returns.

In answer to Fabien's frenzied call, Marie, the maid, appeared, immediately, on the landing below and came up with a twisted, mocking smile on her face. Marie rejoiced in Fabien's anguish.
"Where is Manon?" Fabien's face was white, his eyes bloodshot.
"Gone, likely with the rich gentleman who called for her." Marie's eyes were crafty.
"You lie!" came from Fabien through set jaw.
His face was livid and Marie ducked out of reach from upraised arms that threatened to strike her to the door.
Gradually Fabien's awful rage ebbed away, leaving him weak and dazed. He was so pitifully young and deeply in love with Manon that Marie's implication had made him see red. Still he dared not recall the content of that note. It seemed impossible to Fabien that Manon had been unfaithful. He adored her, and had she not given sufficient proof of her love? She had hardly been out of his sight since their arrival in Paris—how could she know another man? In a dash Fabien was convinced that the Comte had discovered Manon's whereabouts and forced her to go away with him. Even this was a deathblow, because if true her fate would be unthinkable.

Fabien reread the note and was more distressed than ever. What a cruel message for Manon to leave! There was no doubt about it being her own writing. Apparently she had grown tired of him and their poverty. No, no, she had too recently lavished her caresses upon him for that to be true. Yet, the reality of her note remained to taunt him. Fabien paced the floor as though bereft of all reason.

He tossed the silver chain on the table beside his slipper buckles. What a celebration to end their first week of love together!

Unable to endure the solitary loneliness of their once happy abode, Fabien strode from the room and slammed the door.

The love nest was deserted. Would the world prove a kind place for the young ones who had gone forth so poorly prepared to meet the adventure and problems that awaited them?

Only time could tell!

CHAPTER IX
When Lescout finally succeeded in getting Manon out of the pension she welcomed the sight of a coach and quickly shoved her with-n its seclusion. Fabien passed by. It was a narrow escape. Besides Manon's protestations and ears were embarrassing and he did not want to attract attention. Also, he had to prepare her mind or what was to follow and he could not do it walking along the street.
"How silly to regret leaving a love like that! Dry your eyes and be ready to see the beautiful slave am taking you to. I have come into a little money and am giving so handsomely that I want my little sister to share it with me." Lescout spoke consolingly but he did not dare explain that he handsome home he referred to was the Comte's quarters and the money had been advanced by the
